IN OKLAHOMA.

Trouble Anticipated in that Section in a Few Days.

IT IS STATED THAT THE BOOMERS WILL BURN RAILROAD BRIDGES

On the Night of the 21st in Order to Prevent the Influx of Homesteaders Until They Can Make Perfect Their Claims. Every Precaution Will Be Taken to Frustrate Their Plans.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., April 9.—The officials of the Santa Fe railroad were busy Sunday investigating the story that the boomers concealed in the woods of Oklahoma had banded together for the purpose of destroying the railroad bridges on the night of April 21, in order to obstruct the influx of homesteaders until the men concealed in the country could make perfect their claims.

It appears that the boomers in hiding are desperate. They have selected and watched their claims for years, and they now fear that the newcomers, with the assistance of rapid transit, may get the best of them. There was a meeting of the boomers held in the timber near Oklahoma City last Thursday, and they canvassed the situation. After the meeting adjourned the Santa Fe agent received notice that the bridges would be burned and the trains stopped on April 22, as the old boomers did not propose to jeopardize their chances by allowing a flood of tenderfeet to drop in on the land they had picked out.

Detectives have been sent along the line through the country, and every precaution will be taken to prevent railway obstruction.

There are twice as many people now on the borders as can be accommodated under the homestead act of Oklahoma. Sunday fully 300 passengers arrived in this city all bound for Oklahoma. Many of them represent colonies and are here as advance agents. There are men here representing colonies from Washington, California, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Alabama. The colonies number from twenty to 500 persons.

Sunday evening twenty empty passenger coaches pulled into this city on the Santa Fe, attached to the regular freight train, and were run into the yard to await the 22d. A railroad agent said that the Santa Fe company had 400 cars already engaged by parties who desired homestead goods removed to this point before the 21st.

The crowd has increased here to such proportions that persons who get their mail at the free delivery window at the postoffice are compelled to form into a procession, and then it is frequently five or six hours before they can get to call for their mail. As a consequence of this large influx of people here real estate commenced changing hands. The sales of Saturday amounted to $42,000.

Sentenced for Robbing Freight Cars.

WINAMAC, Ind., April 9.—Calvin Harless, August Newman, Charles Kring, Wellington Harmon, Peter Harmon and Charles F. Hanger have been found guilty of grand larceny, and each sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary. Their arrest and conviction was a surprise to the community in which they resided, as all were prominent and well-to-do farmers. The goods were pilaged from way freights on the Nickel-Plate railroad, and consisted of articles of merchandise of every conceivable description. They amounted in value to between $3,000 and $4,000.

Killed by Saw-Logs.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 9.—Jonathan Shepherd, of Wirt county, a farmer aged 50, while at work Saturday, was killed by being caught and crushed in a huge pile of logs.

Thomas Wilson and his 15-year-old son had been engaged in sawing a log, in Raleigh county, on which they had sat down to rest. The log suddenly broke in two, and one piece started to roll down a steep grade on which they were working. The log was thrown forward, and before he could regain his feet the timber passed over him, breaking his neck.

Death Struggle in a Skiff.

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—Larry McDonald and John Schneider, government employees, working on the Mississippi river improvement commission, quarreled in a small skiff in the middle of the river Sunday. The men clinched and a terrible struggle followed. McDonald proved the most powerful, and, seizing Schneider about the waist, threw him headlong into the river. Schneider was drowned. McDonald rowed ashore and escaped.

A Man of Nerve.

CLINTON, Wis., April 9.—James Coleman, colored, who resides a few miles south, had been in the habit of extracting his own teeth, which usually came so hard as to require his whole strength to draw them. But he tackled one Sunday that came so much easier than he anticipated that the reaction caused his head to fly back so violently as to partially dislocate his brain, causing death in a few minutes.

Grand Army Celebration.

DECATUR, Ill., April 9.—Saturday evening at the Post hall the twenty-third anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic in Decatur and the United States was celebrated in a fitting manner. There are now but six surviving members of the original post, four of whom reside in Decatur.

Robbed a Cornerstone.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., April 9.—Some miserant, who was evidently in hard luck, removed the cornerstone of the Baptist church from its place in the walls. The church was built in 1874, and but $1.50 in money was known to have been deposited in it. Poor pay for such a trick.

Forest Fires on a Mountain.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., April 2.—Forest fires were raging Sunday night on Storm King mountain, near Cornwall. As seen from here the fires seemed to be some distance from the Mountain house.

HALSTEAD'S REJECTION.

A Kansas Man Says It May Cost Senator Ingalls His Seat.

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—Senator Ingalls' constituents have not taken kindly to his opposition to Murat Halstead's confirmation, and it is more than likely that he will have to make a stubborn fight for his return.

J. R. Burton, of Abeline, has openly announced his candidacy, and is personally making a canvass of the state.

"Mr. Ingalls began his congressional life," he said, "nearly a generation ago. Children have been born and are now cutting figures in the world since he left Kansas. He has become identified with Washington ways and customs, and it follows that Kansas suffers from this. One cannot remain away so many years and still be in touch with the people he represents. Ingalls is not rich and will not become rich by remaining. His great gift entitles him to a place in literature and he should not be sorry to retire from the senate. This Halstead episode goes far to show that a change is desirable in the composition in the senate. A senator should be above harboring feelings of revenge."

not become rich by remaining. His great gift entitles him to a place in literature and he should not be sorry to retire from the senate. This Halstead episode goes far to show that a change is desirable in the composition in the senate. A senator should be above harboring feelings of revenge."

MOTTWEILER'S MURDERER.

William Benson, of New Albany, Indiana, Sentenced to Hang.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 9.—Saturday afternoon William Benson was convicted of the murder of Jacob Mottweiler, near New Albany, and sentenced to hang. Benson was Mottweiler's farm-hand. Mottweiler had no neighbors within a mile, and only his wife and a servant girl were on the farm with him and Benson. A quarrel arose about the girl and, on Sunday last summer, Benson shot Mottweiler dead and then tried to kill Mrs. Mottweiler with an ax.

She was left apparently dead, but finally recovered. The girl fled and reported the tragedy. Benson made no attempt to escape. When taken he at first denied his guilt, but later confessed.

His attorneys tried to show insanity, and on the stand Benson denied ever having made a confession or made other singular statements. The jury was out only half an hour. An appeal will be taken. The case was tried at Jeffersonville on charge of venue from New Albany, and the execution will take place there.

The Mormon Church Enlarged.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 9.—Wilford Woodruff, who has been president of the twelve apostles since John Taylor became president of the Mormon church, was elected to succeed Taylor as president of the Mormon conference Sunday. In his inaugural sermon he declared that the saints would yet triumph. All other religions were decayed. He urged the saints not to yield to those people here—meaning the Gentile authorities—who were working to make them do things that were wrong in the sight of God, but continue to keep the celestial law. George Q. Cannon, Lorenzo Snow and others also spoke, eulogizing the Mormon church, and declaring that its prosperity showed that it enjoyed God's favor.

A Boy Kills a Desperado.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 9.—Another terrible scene in the Granger county tragedy was enacted about 11 o'clock Friday night. Daniel Beeler, who was jointly accused with Wolfbarger of killing Sheriff Greenlee, was surprised in a thicket on Church river, near his home, by a 15-year-old boy, who was one of a posse of twenty searching for the accused. Beeler was ordered to throw up his hands. Instead of doing this the boy fired both barrels of a shotgun, fairly riddling the desperado with buckshot. There is a rumor that two others of the Wolfbarger gang were killed at the same time.

Twenty Rebels Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—A China mail of March 6, which arrived from Hong Kong by steamer City of Sydney, has the following concerning the fight between the British North Borneo company and a band of rebel chiefs: On the 11th the forces of the British North Borneo company captured Galea Fort after three and a half hours' hard fighting, taking nine guns. The rebel loss was twenty killed, while the British forces lost one killed and five wounded. Exporting arms from this colony has been prohibited for six months on account of the fighting.

Charged With Being Dynamiters.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Patrick S. Close, Thomas Brandon and John O'Connell, members of the Ale and Porter Brewery Employees' Protective association, have been indicted and arrested on the charge of conspiring to blow up Stevenson's brewery, which was damaged by a dynamite explosion on February 8. The indictment is based on the testimony of Henry Fitzgerald, who said he was one of the conspirators. His confession was made in revenge for a slight put upon him by fellow-unionists.

Another Six-Round Draw.

PEORIA, Ill., April 9.—Reddy Hennessy, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Dan Gallagher, of Ft. Worth, Tex., fought six rounds near this city Sunday morning. About 400 sporting men were present, and before the fight had progressed far a large crowd of people had gathered and waited to see the battle, the ring having been pitched in the public road. In the sixth round Gallagher struck Hennessy a powerful blow on the nose while the latter was down. The referee called the fight a draw, and was chased to the cabin of a boat.

Brewery Syndicate Again Foiled.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 9.—Gerhard Lang, one of the leading brewers of Buffalo, stated Sunday that he had been approached by the English brewery-buying syndicate with a view of selling his big establishment. "I declined to sell," he said. "My brewery gives employment to many men, and I want to see it kept on giving work to and benefiting Americans, and not go to an English syndicate, who would import laborers from England."

THE CENTENNIAL.

Program of the Washington Inaugural Celebration.

THE MANAGER OF THE GREAT BALL SAID TO HAVE RESIGNED

Because the Centennial Managers Have Increased the Entertainment Committee—The Great and Only Four Hundred Hopping Mad—Grand Stand Seats from Twenty-Five Cents Up.

NEW YORK, April 9.—At the headquarters of the centennial committee of the Washington celebration it is rumored that the resignation of Mr. Ward McAllister, as manager of the ball, has been sent in. Several of Mr. McAllister's friends have called at the headquarters and expressed indignation at the treatment which Mr. McAllister had received. They declared that by the recent action of the centennial managers in increasing the number of the entertainment committee, Mr. McAllister has become a mere figurehead without any power whatever in the management of the ball, and that the Four Hundred are not going to stand the snub.

Clarence W. Bowen and his associates on the plan and scope committee are silent about Mr. McAllister's grievance. They merely say that all will be right as soon as the facts in the case are known.

The aldermen, who have been for some time spoiling for a fight with the committee, are delighted with the latest turn of affairs. As matters stand now, Mr. McAllister's relation to the ball is about the same as a cyclopedia—to be used for consultation only.

The leader of the Four Hundred refuses to discuss his grievance. The prices of seats on the stand are as follows: At Washington square, $1; at Forty-second street, fifty cents; at City Hall park, twenty-five cents; at Madison square, $3.

The plan and scope committee is not inclined to grant the request of Assemblyman Duffy that a stand should be erected at a cost of $3,000 for the exclusive use of veteran soldiers and sailors and their families.

The following is a condensation of the official program:

Wednesday, April 17.—Formal opening of the loan exhibition of historical portraits in the assembly room of the Metropolitan opera house at 8 a. m.

Monday, April 23.—Arrival of the president and cabinet at Elizabethport, N. J., 11 a. m. Embark at once for New York city. Governors, commissioners and other guests embark at 9:30 a. m. at ferry ship, foot of West Twenty-third street and proceed to Elizabethport to meet the presidential party.

The line of the United States ships of war, yachts and steamboats will be formed in the upper bay, and after saluting will follow in this order: 1, the president; 2, governors and commissioners; 3, other guests.

On arrival at the foot of Wall street a barge manned by shipmasters from the Marine society of New York, Capt. Ambrose Snow, coxswain, will row the president ashore. He will then be received by Chairman William B. Hamilton, of the committee on states, and the presidential party be escorted to the Equitable building, where a collation will be served and a reception given. This will consume the time from 2 until 4 p. m.

After the reception at the Equitable the president and governors will proceed to the city hall, under military escort, where there will be a public reception in the governor's room from 4 to 6. In the evening occurs the centennial ball.

Tuesday, April 30.—Services of thanksgiving in the churches of New York and throughout the country at 9 a. m. A special service of thanksgiving at St. Paul's church at 9 a. m., which the president will attend. The commemorative centennial exercises on the south front of the sub-treasury building, the scene of the inauguration ceremony on April 30, 1789.

The military parade under command of Maj. Gen. John M. Schofield. The right of the line is given to the military and naval cadets, followed by the troops of the regular army and the National guard, each state being headed by its governor and his staff.

Following will be 200 companies of the Loyal Legion, and then the posts of the Grand Army. The route will be up Broadway to Waverly place, to Fifth avenue, to Fifty-ninth street.

From 6 to 7 a reception will be given the president by the art committee at the loan exhibition rooms in the Metropolitan Opera house. At 7 p. m. the banquet.

Wednesday, May 1, the industrial and civic parade.

Wednesday, May 8, close of the loan exhibition.

The reception and embarkation of the president at Elizabethport, N. J., have given rise to a sort of annex celebration in New Jersey. Upward of $100,000 has been subscribed by the citizens and the military and civic procession will escort the president from Elizabeth to the scene of his embarkation.

Dispensed by Dispensaries.

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—One of the members of the board of pardons is accused of sending telegraphic dispatches in favor of the bill giving himself and his esteemed contemporaries $500 per annum. The grave and revered solons who wouldn't put an annex to their own salary are said to be getting ready to send a committee asking Foraker to displace the offender officially.

Cyclone in the Northwest.

WINNETKA, Minn., April 9.—Word has been received at Regina, N. W. T., of a destructive cyclone that struck a settlement on Long Lake, on the night of March 30. It mowed a path thirty yards wide through the bluffs, tearing green trees up by the roots.

FOUNDERED IN A STORM.

Coal Barge Goes Down at Sea—Five Lives Lost.

LEWES, Del., April 9.—The coal barge Sun Rise, with a cargo of coal from Norfolk to New York, foundered in the gale of Saturday night, and the captain, his wife and their two small children and a seaman went down with the vessel and were all lost. Joseph Coyle, another seaman, drifted about all night in a small boat, and was picked up on the beach off Lewes in an almost lifeless condition by one of the life-saving crew. He was taken to the Marine hospital, where restoratives were applied, and he told the story of the disaster. He was unable, however, to give the names of the captain and his family.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

TUESDAY EVE, APRIL 9, 1890.

Stay in your castor now, if you want an office in 1890.

The numerous candidates for county offices will make things lively between now and June 15th.

At Lexington, Saturday, Hon. James H. Mulligan was declared the Democratic nominee for Senator, and G. B. Kinkead the nominee for the Legislature.

The 30th of this month will be a general holiday, declared so by act of Congress. It will be the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of the first President.

The Legislature of Ohio has passed an amendment to the road law in that State. Supervisors are authorized to take gravel and such other material as they may need for the improvement of roads from adjacent property and pay for the same out of the road fund.

The Kentucky office-seekers who have been hanging about Washington since the inauguration got their "walking papers" a few days since. The information that "they might as well go home," coming as it did from the President's Private Secretary, was a "cooler."

The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette fills several columns every day with letters from old soldiers advocating a pension for every man who has an honorable discharge. But while the debate is going on Tanner is granting the pensions at his own sweet will.—Covington Commonwealth.

The Lexington Press thinks that "in the appointment of Drury J. Burchett as Marshal of Kentucky the fine Italian hand of Colonel Swope would not be hard to discover." Well, what's the matter with Judge Thomas? He ought to have done something for Burchett to pay for Lewis County's treatment of him last fall.

A WEEK or more has elapsed since Auditor Hewitt announced his intention of bringing suits against the Covington Commonwealth and Owensboro Enquirer for libel, but no suits have been filed. Perhaps, he was a little hasty in making such announcement and has discovered his mistake on sober second thought. The Louisville Times should hurry him up.

The "colored brothers" are beginning to kick at Harrison's treatment of their race. The Rev. J. F. Freeman, of St. John's Baptist Church, Louisville, says: "The Cleveland Administration was fairer and cleverer to the colored man than the Harrison's Administration is; and beyond all this, it is clearly evident that its anti-monopoly and anti-trust position is more favorable to the laboring classes than is the position of the present Republican party. . . . The party of Gen. Grant and other monopolists and capitalists cannot be favorable to the poor man, and especially to the colored poor man."

It has always been a custom of the Democrats of Mason County to honor a faithful and efficient Sheriff with the nomination for a second term. Mr. Alexander was elected last August, and is now filling his first term in the office. His successor will have to be chosen in August, 1890, and the action of the Democratic Executive Committee in calling a primary election for June 15th next to select the county ticket to be voted for in 1890 compels Mr. Alexander to come forward at once and announce his candidacy for re-election, which he does in this issue. He is making an excellent official, and is entitled to a warm endorsement on the 15th of June. And there is not the least doubt that he will receive it. His popularity was fully tested last August, when he was elected by a majority that was phenomenally large.

Stock, Field and Farm

The growing wheat throughout the country is looking exceedingly fine, the acreage is very large and as about $60,000 worth of fertilizer was drilled in with it, the crop will probably be the largest ever raised.—Elizabethtown News.

The State Farmers' Alliance, which met at Atlanta Thursday, represented 1,900 sub-alliances and 80,000 farmers of Georgia. The principal object of the meeting was to devise means to defeat the extortions of the jute bagging trust. After full discussion, the Alliance decided to substitute cotton bagging.

Between 1880 and 1889, the wool clip of free-trade Australia increased from 70,000,000 pounds to 300,000,000 pounds, while for the same period, in protected America, the increase of clip was but from 112,000,000 pounds in 1880 to 210,000,000 pounds in 1889. Protection is rougher on American sheep than whole regiments of yellor sheep-killing curs.—Louisville Times.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

SHANNON.

C. C. Cole, of Moorefield, is here in fine rig to take in the wedding Wednesday.

Sealed proposals for building the Shannon and Lowell turnpike were received from several parties by the directors on Saturday last.

Harrison Trigg and nephew, Frank Bland, have bought the David Mann farm in Nicholas County, near Forest Retreat, of 143 acres at $40 per acre.

It was rather singular in the recent house-burning on Shannon that the watch dog that laid on the back porch was burned up, and the chickens that roosted under the house were reduced to ashes. They were too brave to retreat.

A agent who is always on the go, reminding one of the him, the bird that never lights, says in a recent paper to your Fresh Valley ink-slinger: "I am incubating a case and will turn it over to you about the full of the moon to work up for your special organs—the Daily Bulletin and Harrison News." He is a thirty-five year-old bachelor of driving business habits. She—a Robertson County resident of fine presence and special domestic qualities. N. W. girls, put on your guessing caps and identify the couple for the curious.

To reduce expenses and save the people from a needless death, let the remedy be held at an early day, and every fellow get ready to shy in his castor. When the convention assemblies let us select the very best material, men who either have special training and experience for the office to fill or sharp and well defined business qualities that will adapt themselves to the exigencies of the occasion. It is time to draw the line on experimental, inexperienced men who are continually plaguing the patient public with their petty pretensions. Such timber is not available, and will not pass current in these iconoclastic days.

GERMANTOWN.

Mrs. P. B. Johnson, of Covington, is visiting her son, W. C. Johnson.

The genius of the progressing American young man seeks the grand Western plains for its fullest development. Our young friend Dr. H. B. Savage has gone to Missouri to engage in the practice of his profession. He is a graduate of Bellevue Medical College, and also served in the hospital connected with that institution. For a young man, he has gained an enviable reputation for his skillful treatment of throat, ear and nose diseases. We wish him abundant success in his new field.

Men's Fashion Notes.

Link cuffs are the proper caper for full dress, and are likely to continue so.

Scarf pins are still worn by almost everybody, and the practice will hold good for another season if symptoms have any weight.

Manufacturers are turning out kangaroo-skin shoes at an enormous rate. These shoes promise to be very popular next summer.

A water-proof coat used to be a necessary evil at best. Now it is an article of luxury. The latest evolution in this line is to all intents and appearances an elegant spring top-coat.

Swells are now discussing the embroidered shirt collar with a view to settling its claim to companionship with the embroidered bosom. The more effectually to back up their arguments, those who advocated the embroidered collar are wearing it.

Notwithstanding the hue and cry for brighter colors in men's costume, gentlemen whose judgement is most followed are slow to forsake the traditional rich and neutral shades which have become characteristic of your well-dressed American. In no respect is this truer than as regards neck dressing.

The weather continues unfavorable for handling tobacco, and sales are therefore not excessively large. The improvement which was reported in the market last week has been fully sustained this week, but no further advance is quoted. We look for very large receipts to follow the first handling season.

Committee.

In response to a call, the Democratic Executive Committee of Mason County met at Circuit Clerk's office at Maysville April 8, 1889, at 2 o'clock p. m. All members were present excepting Committeeman

The order of State Central Committee calling for selection of delegates to State convention for purpose of nominating a candidate for State Treasurer, at Louisville, Ky., May 8, 1889, was read.

J. F. Walton was unanimously elected to fill vacancy in committee for Minerva precinct.

It was decided to hold a mass convention at Maysville court house April 27th, 1889, at 2 p. m., to select delegates to Louisville State convention.

Decided unanimously to hold precinct meetings Saturday, June 8, 1889, to choose delegates to convention at Maysville Monday, June 10, 1889, to nominate a candidate for Representative.

In response to a petition of candidates for county offices to be voted for in August, 1890, it was decided to hold a primary election Saturday, June 15, 1889, said primary election to determine the candidates for the various county offices.

A motion was made that each candidate should, by June 1, 1889, deposit his pro rata of assessment for expenses incident to primary election, said deposit to be made with Chairman of Executive Committee. Carried.

It was moved and carried that the Chairman appoint a committee to examine and report result of primary poll-books. Messrs. A. H. Calvert, J. J.
Thompson and W. C. Johnson were appointed, they to act in conjunction with the Chairman and County Clerk.

Decided, that poll books be returned and committee examine same June 17, 1889.

Decided, that the primary election for nominating candidates for county offices be held between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m. on said date, June 15, 1889.

All persons having voted for Benjamin Harrison for President, and all known Republicans were, upon motion, dis-qualified from voting in primary election.

All young men becoming of age in 1890 prior to August election of said year, and declaring themselves Democrats, are to be permitted to vote in said primary.

It was moved and carried that if any candidate for county office in 1890 be found guilty of using money, whisky or bribe in any way to procure his nomination on June 15, 1889, or if his friends use any bribe, it shall be the duty of the committee appointed to count the vote to declare his nomination null and void.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH, Chairman.

CHAS. B. POYNTZ, Secretary.

The above is the official action of the committee. Most of the candidates for the various county offices were in favor of a primary election, and all were anxious that it be held at an early day.

The question was the subject of a warm discussion, participated in principally by

Mr. A. J. Calvert, of Lewisburg, and

'Squire Earnshaw, of Dover. They thought it too early to select nominees

for the August election, 1890. 'Squire

Earnshaw moved that it be declared inexpedient to take any action on the petition of the candidates. Mr. Calvert seconded the motion. He thought if the committee didn't set down on the candidates now it might soon be called on to fix a convention or primary to select candidates for the August election in 1900

The motion was lost. Mr. Downing, of Washington precinct, then moved that a primary election be ordered for June

15th. 'Squire Earnshaw amended that the first Saturday of next November be fixed as the date of the primary. Amendment lost, after which Mr. Downing's motion prevailed and the primary was ordered as stated in the official proceed-

GERMANY'S NAVY

The Emperor Determined to Make It Second to None.

IT IS SAID THAT BOULANGER WILL REMOVE TO LONDON.

Many Englishmen Regard His Immediate Expulsion the Duty of the British Government—Even the Pig-Tailed Chinese Refer With Contempt to the American Navy—Foreign News.

BERLIN, April 9.—In a day or two Emperor William will go to Wilhelmshaven to inspect the corvette Alexandrine before that vessel sails for Samoa. His majesty's letter to Admiral Von der Goltz, chief of the admiralty, expressing confidence that the recent disaster at Samoa will not retard the prosperous development of the navy, does not represent the real state of his mind. He keeps the admiralty busily engaged in supplying him with reports minutely detailing the construction and condition of every war ship. Since the English parliament voted the addition of seventy ships to the navy, his majesty's attention centers exclusively upon admiralty affairs.

The officials expect that the recently advanced scheme for the reorganization of the navy will be recast and enlarged. The emperor freely expresses a determination to make Germany a naval power of the first rank. In conversation with Sir Edward Malet, the British ambassador, he said that nothing he would see during his coming visit to England would interest him as much as the promised naval review at Spithead.

Officials here are in doubt as to whether the Samoan question can be amicably settled unless the American commissioners shall be empowered to assent to some form of compensation for native outrages upon Germans. It is believed that a nominal concession in this direction will result in an easy adjustment of the relative positions of the three powers, and save the natives from German retribution.

The Self-Exiled General.

LONDON, April 9.—The announcement that rooms have been engaged at a London hotel for Gen. Boulanger and the friends who have chosen to share his self-imposed exile from France excited some of the more heated sticklers for international reciprocity and the conservation of existing institutions at home and abroad to demand that the baton of the French republic be met upon his arrival in English soil by an official refusal to permit him to remain here and conduct his warfare against the French government.

Ridiculous as it may seem, there are many intelligent Englishmen who regard Boulanger's immediate expulsion from Great Britain as the duty of the government, regardless of the facts that the constitutionality of such action would be very questionable; that no reason exists for preventing him from coming to England and remaining as long as he likes; that England has been from time immemorial, and still is a harbor of refuge for still more important political exiles from almost every civilized nation on the globe.

In support of the idea that Boulanger could be ultimately turned back on his arrival in England, the facts of his exclusion cite the case of Herr Johann Most, who was imprisoned for expressing in his paper, The Freiheit, his great joy that Emperor Alexander II of Russia had been removed from the trials and troubles of life by the explosion of a bomb which shattered his nether limbs. If it was just to imprison a man in England for rejoicing over the death of a Russian sovereign, it is certainly proper to expel a man who is plotting to overthrow the government of France.

This is the argument used, and perhaps it is worthy of consideration. Still, in the present democratic temper of the people of England, it would be almost suicidal for the government to interfere with Boulanger's perfect liberty to establish himself in London and do what he pleases not in contravention of British laws.

The pretty well verified statements that Boulanger has conferred with Prince Victor Napoleon since his arrival in Brussels have resulted in disgusting a great many persons who have hitherto maintained at much cost of argument that the general was earnestly working for the purification of the republic, and not, as he has been accused of doing, for the restoration of a monarchical government. Nobody can be made to believe that Prince Victor is anxious for the strengthening of the republic, and if it be true, as it doubtless is, that Boulanger is fraternizing with the royal enemies of France's governmental system, in whose association he can be nothing better than a tool, he left France none too soon to save his neck.

Ordered to "Git."

PARIS, April 9.—The Mot d'Ordre, a French newspaper, says that Gen. Boulanger has been notified by the Belgian government to leave the country, and that he will go to Brighton, England.

The Program in Palestine.

JAFFA, April 9.—The American Catholic pilgrims arrived here from Ismalia, Sunday, and at once proceeded toward Jerusalem. The party will remain in Jerusalem until April 23, when they will return to this port on their way home.

Foreign Notes.

The first meeting of the French senate as a tribunal to try Gen. Boulanger will be held on Friday next.

The trouble between M. Rochefort and M. Thiebaud has been amicably settled by friends, and the proposed duel between them will not be fought.

The Rev. Sir Frederick Arthur Gore Ouseley, baronet, is dead. He was professor of music in the university of Oxford, and composed much church music. He was 63 years old.

Gen. Rosenbach, governor of Turkestan, is on his way from Kerki on the Afghan frontier to Tashkend, as the recent disturbances have been settled. The answer of Afghanistan's forces is also retreating.

It now appears that there is no chance for the passage of the woman's suffrage bill during the present session of the British parliament and it is pretty well settled that no effort will be made to bring it forward.

A recent fire in the Chinese imperial palace is said to have been started by the attendants, to remove all proof of fraud in the accounts and of the theft of furs and silks, of which a large quantity had been stolen and sold.

THE NAVY YARDS.

Those at League Island and Brooklyn Visited by Secretary Tracy.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The new secretary of the navy, B. F. Tracy, inspected the harbor of Philadelphia Saturday and afterward visited the League Island navy yard, making the trip on the city tug William S. Stokes.

The start was made at a 9:45 o'clock, and when the ship-yard was sighted a puff of white smoke rose from the bow of the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, and was followed by a loud report. The officers upon the new cruiser were saluting the secretary of the navy and the dynamite guns—the first salute of the kind ever given and the first regular firing of the guns of the cruiser. The usual salute of nineteen guns for a secretary of the navy was fired.

At the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 9.—Secretary Tracy paid his first official visit to the navy yard here. The officers, in full uniform, and the marines turned to receive him. The secretary was punctual to the minute. He fixed the time for his visit at 10:30 a. m., and at precisely that hour his carriage was driven under the main gateway.

When the secretary alighted he was surrounded by the officers and subjected to a vigorous handshaking. The marines presented arms, and at the same time the battery on the Cobb dock discharged the usual nineteen guns, the official salute to the head of the naval department. The secretary was shown around the yard by Commander Francis W. Ramsay, the chief officer, attended by Commodore Walker, Capt. Miller, Lieut. Mason, Lieut. Commander A. B. Lillie, and a number of other officers.

The secretary visited the naval lyceum building and the new cruiser Chicago, and inspected the framework of the cruiser Maine, which has been set up in the yard. The secretary remained until 1:30. The officers and men again assembled to witness the secretary's departure. The secretary subsequently expressed himself as being greatly pleased at what he saw at the yard.

A $1,000,000 BLAZE.

Savannah, Georgia, Visited by a Destructive Fire Saturday Night.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 9.—Fire broke out Saturday night about 7 o'clock in the store of D. H. Hogan, dry goods merchants, at the corner of Broughton and Barnard streets. It spread rapidly, and soon the store adjoining, occupied by James Douglass & Company, was in flames.

The fire then leaped across the street to the fine new building recently built by the Oll Follows, and it was soon completely destroyed. Flames seized on a long row of dwellings on Whitaker street, resulting in their total destruction, making the loss thus far about $250,000.

The sparks soon ignited the Independent Presbyterian church, five blocks away, and as the entire fire department was engaged at the business portion, the church was soon in ruins. A four story brick paint store also caught and was wholly consumed, entailing a loss of $75,000. The arsenal of the Savannah guards' battalion, five more residences, all the structures on Whitaker street from York to South Broad street, the jewelry store of M. Sternberg, J. D. Weel's valuable property and more than a dozen other fine buildings were almost entirely consumed. No loss of life is yet reported. The total number of buildings destroyed is about fifty, with a loss of not less than $1,000,000, with insurance of about half that amount.

Starvation on the Isthmus of Panama.

PANAMA, April 9.—Since the suspension of work on the canal 8,000 laborers have been repatriated from the isthmus. A consular investigation shows that there are still over 3,000 persons on the line of the works who are in a destitute condition. Some deaths from starvation have already been reported, and it is feared that many more will occur if prompt measure are not taken by the West Indian governments to send the people back to their homes. Negroes and women and children are the worst sufferers. Despite the great distress good order prevails.

Sanderson for Supreme Justice.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 9.—Influential friends of Gen. Thomas Sanderson, of this city, have presented his name to President Harrison, accompanied by a strong petition bearing the signatures of leading members of the bar in Ohio and other states, requesting his appointment on the supreme bench. Gen. Sanderson was admitted to the bar in 1852. His ability for the position is conceded by all. He served four years in the army, entering as lieutenant, and rose from that position to brigadier general.

Sick Five Weeks in a Barn.

LAWRENCE, Mass., April 9.—William Dunn, aged 27, of West Chelmsford, was found Sunday sick and helpless in the barn on the Nelson farm in Boxford. He said he had been there since March 5, suffering with typhoid fever, and subsisting upon apples and corn husks. Much of the time he had lain unconscious. He was in search of work when taken ill and climbed into the hayloft. He is now being cared for by the police.

Woman Suffragists Rejoice.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Woman Suffrage party is rejoicing over the action of the United States court of claims in appointing one of its members, Miss Mary H.
